Brand Story

Retronova Sportswear was not where the brand began. Retronova Apparel started as a streetwear label built on creativity, faith, and expression. As the brand grew, so did the understanding that clothing has a deeper role, especially in sport. Design came naturally and marketing came from years of trial and error. At some point, those worlds crossed. After many years of designing clothes I noticed, the clothes you wear are more than just fabrics. They are a reflection. Athletes wear confidence, preparation and resilience. The clothes they wear must match the way they carry themselves. It's not just about looking good. It's about feeling good. Retronova sports came from that understanding. The focus has always been simple. Designing sportswear with the intention to perform, allowing you to focus on what you do best.

Retronova Sportswear represents the next chapter of the brand.
